TERMS OF USE

The use of this website will be governed by the following conditions, including the contents and services offered to users. That is the reason why from GoSupply we kindly ask you to read these conditions carefully, given that they contain all the information regarding your rights and obligations.

It should be noted that merely by accessing the website you will be considered a "user" of the platform and thereby you are expressly accepting, automatically and voluntarily, the conditions in force at all times. In case you do not wish to accept them, you are advised not to continue using the website. Note that access to www.mygosupply.com is free and does not require prior subscription or registration.

GoSupply reserves exclusively and at all times the right to review the present conditions, to introduce modifications derived from legislative changes or corporate decisions, committing itself to publish and thereby inform of the variations that may affect users. These modifications will be deemed as accepted when the user continues to use the website.

Similarly, GoSupply reserves the right to unilaterally modify, at any time and without prior notice, the structure and design of the website, as well as its services or contents. Under these same terms, throughout the tasks of modification, repair, update or improvements, access to the website may be suspended.

Due to the above-mentioned modifications in the website, new contents or services may be included and, apart from being subject to these Conditions of Use, they may also be subject to Special or Particular Conditions of Use that would extend or substitute the present ones. In the event that there are any disagreements between General Use Conditions and Particular Use Conditions, the stipulations of the latter will prevail.

Obligations and responsibilities of users

The user commits himself not to infringing the current legislation while using this website, as well as to respecting good faith, generally accepted uses and public order. It is forbidden the use of this website for illicit, deceptive, malicious or harmful purposes for GoSupply or any other third party. Therefore, this website use must be appropriate and correct, and the user shall not incur in harmful behaviour to the image, interests and / or rights of GoSupply and / or third parties. Similarly, the user shall not damage, disable or overload the website, neither shall access, use and / or manipulate GoSupply's data.

The user agrees to provide truthful and accurate information in his communications with GoSupply, being the user the sole responsible for the damages that, direct or indirectly, may cause the inaccuracy of such information, both to GoSupply and to third parties.

GoSupply adopts reasonable and adequate security measures to detect the existence of viruses. However, it must be taken into account that security measures of computer systems may not be entirely reliable, so GoSupply cannot guarantee the absence of viruses or other elements that could affect the computer systems, documents and / or files of the user. We ask users not to introduce or spread computer viruses or physical or logical systems that may cause damage to GoSupply or third parties.

GoSupply reserves the right to pursue any necessary legal action in defence of his interests or temporarily suspend the accessibility to the website due to maintenance, repair, updating or improvement operations without prior notice.
